An extremist post

To every pig who considers himself a Muslim and attends the gatherings of the polytheist Rawāfiḍ on ʻĀshūrāʾ, I say: your killing is permissible (ḥalāl), for you are an apostate, a .disbeliever, and not a Muslim

Response 1

Violence and aggression toward others are not in line with the lofty values of Islam, which call for mercy and justice. Almighty God says in His Holy Book: {And do not kill the soul which Allah has forbidden [to be killed] except by [legal] right} [al-Isrāʾ: 33]. This noble verse affirms the sanctity of life and forbids taking it without a legitimate reason. It is more fitting for us to work on promoting understanding and peaceful dialogue among different sects. The Prophet (peace be upon him) said, "A [true] Muslim is the one from whose tongue and hand the Muslims are safe," which reminds us of the importance of peaceful coexistence and warns .against being led astray by extremist ideas that foster hatred and harm

Response 2

Islam is a religion of peace and mercy, not of violence and accusing others of disbelief. God Almighty says in the Holy Qur'an: "And do not say to one who offers you peace, 'You are not a believer'" (An-Nisāʾ: 94). We must be advocates of goodness, respect our differences, and remember that violence only leads to more suffering. Let us work together to build societies .founded on mutual respect and peace
